AMERICAN RALLY IN SECOND WARD

Enthusiastic Meeting Is Held at Residence of Mrs. Olive Pearson.

SPEAKERS EXPLAIN THE PRINCIPLES OF PARTY

J. W. McKinney Sacrifices Party for Good of State and City.

An enthusiastic meeting of the American party was held Friday evening at the home of Miss Olive Pearson, 260 East Fourth South street, about 200 people being present. Mrs. J. M. Cohen, president of the Woman's American Club of Utah, opened the meeting by Club of Utah, opened the meeting by unnouncing the national authem as the first musical number on the programme. It was sung with feeling, and was followed by a humarous campaign song, untitled "Go Dowb, Joseph."

The orators of the evening were Allen T. Sanford, J. W. McKinney and A. J. Weber, their speaking having been interpolated by other musical numbers, among which was a spirited campaign solo, "Salt Lake an American Tow." tonposed and fendered by Miss Lodes in Davis. Miss Anna Frazier, who was described by an enthusiastic bystander as "a genuine American girl by birth, described by an enthusiastic bystander as "a genuine American girl by birth, and in principle," recited a piece of prose called "The Soul of a Violin." One of the eleverest things on the programme was a paraphrase of the well-known song, entitled "I Was Handed a Lemon in the Garden of Love"—Dr. Plummer impersonating the lemon in the local version of the tong. A. T. Sanford Speaks.

The tenor of the speeches embraced such salient points as the increased ax bugaboo, upon which topic Mr. Sanford elucidated at length and to great effect. He said: "Our opponents have made a great hue and cry concerning the increase in taxation during the regime of the American party. Well, I wish to say to you that if you will consult your notices received during the term of this party in office you will find that the raise has amounted to only 2 mills. And this raise was made primarily for the purpose of creating a sinking fund with which to repay the $1,000,000 bond issue which was voted in during the term of Mayor Morris. This slight increase has made to possible to advance the salaries of teachers and others who have herebofore been miserably underpaid.
"I want to ask you," continued Mr. Sanford, "if you have not seen evidences everywhere of the judicious use of revenue in the making of such improvements as paving, etc., which remained undone during all the lethargic years of the Mormon leaders?"

"Bred in the Bone."

"Bred in the Bone."

J. W. McKinney of the legal firm f Powers & Marioneaux delivered an loquent address. He stated that he is y principle a "bred-in-the bone" ploquent address. He stated that he is by principle a "bred-in-the-bone" Democrat, but that in a case where the future of Salt Lake and the State of Utah is at stake, it is the sacred duty of every man and woman to discard partisan views, and band together in a common bond of protection. "We now this to ourselves," he said, "if we would perpetuate our present civic activity, and it is clearly the duty of every one who stands for the cardinal principles of Americanism to lend his principles of Americanism to lend his most stremous effort to the accomplishment of this end."

Judge A. J. Weber concluded the speaking with a masterful oration that incorporated every fact concerning the petual, achievements of the American petual achievements of the American party thus far.

Attorneys familiar with such transactions say Mr. Snow is mistaken, as an individual by resigning from one ticket in no way affects his status on another. This being so, Mr. Wallace may, if he sincerely wants to, withdraw from the Republican licket. But the fusion master was not born yesterday and Wallace's appointment is not likely to be filed until the last minute, and probably not at all unless Henry Cohn is placed on the Democratic ticket. Democratic ticket.

PROTEST IS FILED AGAINST SECOND WARD FUSION SCHEME.

A protest was filed with the City Recorder yesterday incorporating objections to the scheme of the fusionists in the Second ward. It is held that the Democratic and Republican committees were not authorized to speak for their respective conventions in filling vacan-cies with men of opposite parties. Also that the certificates are not drawn in conformity to the law. It is urged that George Smith, the Democratic nominee for Council, who was placed on the "Republican" ticket is not a Republican and that J. W. Currie, hominated by the "Republicans" is not a Democrat; that no authority was given by the conventions to fill vacancies in this manner.

It is understood that the protest is made to test the law as to the scope of the powers of campaign committees. that the certificates are not drawn

The rally of the Ladies' Republican club at the residence of Mrs. J. W. Currie Friday night was an enjoyable affair from a social point of view. Mr. and Mrs. Currie are pleasant entertainers and made their guests feel at home from the beginning. The music was furnished by the Ladies' Republican quartette, and its songs were well rendered. E. O. Leatherwood was the first speaker of the evening and his remarks were of the evening and his remarks were of the usual campaign material which the Republicans are doling out in the present fight. He said that he was in favor of fusing if that was the name to call it. He was succeeded by "Jake." Greeneweld, who schoon varies in his stock of talk, and who had his tirade abruptly ended by a woman who tugged at his coat tails—a signal that he had said his little piece. "Jake" was followed by M. A. Breeder, who occupied the better part of an hour uttering choice encomiums on the past performances of the national Republican party. J. W. Currie, the host, in a short speech thanked the assemblage for its appearance and the rally closed.

Judge Weber's Statement.

Judge A. J. Weber, one of the speakers at the women's rally, held at the home of Mrs. Souther, 1375 South Ninth East, Wednesday, announces there was some misunderstanding in the report which quoted him as saying the American party had increased taxes and would continue to increase them. A Salt Lake workingman has addressed a letter to The Tribune explaining why he will support the American leket. He says in part "Look at the wages today and the wages five years ago! Then half of the laboring men were idle. The daily papers are every day advertising for men and cannot get them. I want the people to control Salt Lake and not a man who testified at Washington that he was defying the laws of Utah."

Americans Save City Money

[From the Telegram].

The cost of running the city government under the American party in 1906 was $80,000 less than the cost under the Morris administration in 1905. The American party saved to Salt Lake City, by careful management, more than $80,000 in the administration of the various departments of the city government. This was in spite of the fact that every city department was called upon to do more work than ever before in the history of Salt Lake City

This great sum was saved in spite of the fact that millions of dollars in improvements, torn up streets, serious storms and floods brought additional work to the departments.

In the street and irrigation department the actual saving for the year 1906 over 1905 was $45,410.82. The City Engineer's office in 1906 did more than twice the work of the Engineer's office under the Morris administration, yet the cost of maintaining the office was less than the year before, thus saving the city $43,872.16.

The following table shows the increase or decrease in the departments for 1906 over 1905:

the general passenger agents in Chicago, three weeks ago, much pressure was brought to bear to do away with colonists rates to the West from Missouri river points.

The effort, however, Mr. Buriey said, was not successful, and next spring, as heretofore, colonist rates will be in force during the months of March and April. These low rates are made in the interest of the people and are a powerful incentive to the settlement of the West by a desirable and enterprising class of citizens. The colonist rates and the homeseckers' rates work together.

Mayor J. S. Bransford, P. J. Daly, of the City Attorney's office, and Judge G. W. Moyer were the speakers. In marked contrast to the tacties of the orators of the opposition, not one stigmatizing word was uttered against the members or personnel of the other parties. The speakers faced the issues of the campaign and talked on the principles which the American party advocated.

"We have had meetings of every district except the Fifth this week," said Mr. Darmer, "and this district will meet Saturday night. I cannot say too much for the fidelity and industry of the district chairmen, their lieutenants and block captains. The meetings have disclosed that they are alert the American vote and protect its rightful registration, but know well just how to prevent attempts to register the been rechecked and the organization is amply prepared for the last effort.

Darmer Has Confidence.

"That the second day's registration will be another great support to the organization is a mather of concern o every American voter. It must not be forgotten that, however efficient the organization may be, there is a large share of the responsibility on the voters themselves. That voter will best perform his patriotic duty who registers early and who assists the district chairmen in getting out the partisans who early and who assists the district chairmen in getting out the partisans who may forget their duty. I look to the second day's registration with as much confidence in the organization and the voters as I did for the first day's registration. If we have as large a registration, proportionately, there will be no doubt as to the victory—it will become merely a question of how big the American plurality will be."
